

On His Excellency the Earl of CADOGAN'S
Publick ENTRY at the Hague, this present
May the 28th, 1718. being His most Sacred
Majesty King GEORGE's Birth-Day.

Fata Ducis vivent : Operosaque Gloria Rerum.

Ovid.

U R O R A, Goddess of the Purple Morn,
With Blushes gay thy op'ning Light adorn :
And Thou, Great Phæbus, dart thy brightest Ray,
Shine all the God, and grace this glorious Day.

For lo! in pompous Embassage, we bring
The greatest Hero, from the greatest King.
His Master! form'd alone to reconcile
Contending Monarchs, and make Europe smile.
None! like himself, thro' long Experience wise,
To teach Success from growing Schemes to rise.
He! who, when new to Arms, to form the Man,
Had William's Cause, and Conduct for his Plan :
Who, rip'ning thence, to Glory, Year by Year,
Copy'd All Marlb'rough in his Arts of War.
Immortal Marlb'rough! who alone can boast
His Sieges never Rais'd : His Battles never Lost.

Succeed Thy Sire, thou great adopted Son,
Witness to all the Glories He has won ;
On his high Pedestal erect thy Name,
Rise on his Actions, and enjoy his Fame.
Thou! Thou! art He, whom Belgian Crowds to Day
With Joy behold, and lead thy splendid Way ;
A Day! which gave (crown'd by th' auspicious Fates)
GEORGE to the WORLD, CADOGAN to the STATES.
